

SUCCESSFUL GOVERNMENT MISSIONS DEPEND ON SUCCESSFUL DATA SECURITY.

Government agencies are challenged constantly with digital transformation, improving their services, and maintaining tight budgets. Additionally, the amount of data that these agencies must manage continues to grow at incredible rates. This creates a very challenging environment for government IT at the federal, state, and local levels. Government needs to set and pursue laws, regulations, and public policy and address constituent needs, while streamlining digital processes. Covax Data provides the public sector and government agencies with the Polymer solution to lock down the most sensitive of government data, regardless of where it is deployed. From edge to core to cloud, Covax protects government agency and citizen data, including the most top secret secure data.
